WE BEGIN A NEW UU YEAR IN LIMA

As the 2013-2014 church year begins, we Lima UUs are again poised for changes. This must be another year of adaptability as we review our commitments and mission as a spiritual community. We will be welcoming new members, UUs who have recently moved to Lima as well as familiar frequent visitors. As always, but even more important now, every member, every visitor, every person interested in the health of open ideas and community must make an extraordinary effort to participate, to support, and to be truly a part of our society. Our adaptability will be challenged by budgetary constraints, extended member responsibility, developing community needs, and our current broader access to national and international concerns. Volunteer committees do the work of the Fellowship and report their activities at the Executive meetings. Any interested person is invited to attend these meetings to contribute ideas and to discuss implementation. Only current officers can present motions and vote, but everyone can develop ideas.
