Let's make use of our invigorated website by emailing photos and descriptions of UU and personal events, trips, family to dldanie2@chorus.net. Webmaster Donna Daniels also would like comments, corrections and suggestions about the website. Since she is located in Wisconsin she needs local participation. Also, take time to invite new friends to come to Fellowship services and activities with you. Talk about UU and what it means to you and what liberal religion contributes to the community. If you have a subject that you want to develop into a talk, or if you have recently heard a significant speaker, discuss it with the Program committee. It is important for the Fellowship that everybody take an active part in planning and growth and that our services be meaningful.

The POETIC PORCH MUSIC events this past summer, organized and coordinated by Cris Elstro, were well attended by members and visitors. The performers—Parker MacDonell, Lou's Crew, and Will Wells—provided great entertainment which the audience on the porch and relaxing in the front yard thoroughly enjoyed. True to UU custom, we provided light refreshment—wine, pop, water and homemade goodies—and talked between numbers. Our thanks go to all the presenters and hosts and guests. Saturday, September 14 is the date of the final Poetry and Music this season. Entertainers will be Paul Reiser on sax, David Adams reciting poetry, and Bob Spurgeon on clarinet.
